Faith

Dear Ms. Michaels and Ms. Halpern:

Please accept my most heartfelt thanks for once again supporting our agency during this cold season. Generously, through hard work, you have granted us new coats for our children most in need, ensuring that these frigid months will be warmer for over 400 of the boys and girls we serve.

Remarkably, however, that number represents only a fraction of the children who have benefitted from the Kids Clothes Club. You are a resource for families throughout the neighborhoods of Greater Boston, and your dedication is both valuable and admirable.

Although certainly the importance of your work is clear to you, I hope you will allow me to remind you of what you have accomplished: you have provided a precious gift, one that is not only necessary to basic comfort and survival, but also that each child can hold, touch, and call his own. For a family of small means, a new coat is a boon, a relief, and a tangible symbol of hope. For a child, receiving one means being special, cared for, and loved.

Thank you for your continued partnership and your devoted pursuit of a goal that we share: the welfare of all children. We will see the impact of your efforts, this winter and beyond, in many young faces within Associated and the larger community.

Yours truly,

Wayne Ysaguirre
